

Pacific Alliance Technologies Becomes An Authorized Training Center (April 2006)

Pacific Alliance Technologies has been certified an Autodesk Authorized Training Center (ATC) partner. From our world-class training centers in Vancouver, Victoria and Calgary, we become a leading provider of ATC certified training.

An ATC provides Autodesk product training that is consistent, convenient and of exceptional standard. To achieve these goals, ATCs base their classes on Autodesk recommended course descriptions and utilize Autodesk Official Training Courseware materials whenever possible. To further enhance the quality of the program, classroom-based instructors and facilities are evaluated and approved by Autodesk on a regular basis and each ATC instructor is given a high degree of support by Autodesk to ensure the client's training experience exceeds expectations. With over 40 years of combined experience and extensive knowledge of Autodesk products, our training team is fully qualified to guarantee the exceptional level of training expected from an ATC.

“Over the years we have trained thousands of professionals in the use of technical software. We are pleased to further increase the service that we provide to our clients by becoming an ATC,” said Chris Webber, President of Pacific Alliance Technologies.

After completing a Pacific Alliance training course Joseph Fu commented, “ I found that your software instructor and the learning environment were excellent. I would recommend my colleagues or friends to attend this course if it happens again. Thank you!”

Pacific Alliance Technologies (www.pat.ca) is a software provider focused on providing innovative, cost-saving solutions to building design professionals. We specialize in delivering these software solutions via a measured, customized approach developed through experience with many varied clients. Over the past three years, our software support team has developed a strong understanding of both Autodesk Revit and Architectural Desktop thus positioning ourselves to provide the same level of support to consulting engineers who will be working on solutions built on these platforms.

Pacific Alliance has been named as a Premier Service Provider (PSP) for both Building and Infrastructure Solutions for our exceptional customer service. PAT is the only dual PSP in all of Canada.
